

How Do You Do

(Lyrics by Ron Reid Gardner)

Well, last Friday I was thumbin' on the Interstate,
When along came a big Chevy-van,
There were drums and guitars in the back of the truck,
I guess they were some kind of band.

How do you do? We're the "Midnight Crew"

They said: "Hey now baby, do you wanna ride?",
I said: "Yes", as I grabbed my things,
The van was full of guys and was I surprised,
When they all started to sing:

Chorus:

How do you do? We're the "Midnight Crew".
We are drivin' this van across the land, playin' every bar we come to Maybe we're really not yet so famous, so may we introduce ourselves to you
How do you do? We're the midnight crew.

Well the guys said, they were going to kickin',
and it's a really great place to jam,
I told them I could play an acoustic guitar and that I used to sing in a band.

They said: "Hey tonight show us what you've got",
So I started doing my thing, and when we got on stage,
They were sure surprised, when I just started to sing:

Chorus:

How do you do...

Chorus:

How do you do...
